Macro Market Strategy & Strategic Portfolio Outlook/Adjustments

The portfolio is in RISK-OFF Mode: Growth continues at a moderate pace and inflation is moderating. Labour markets in the US continue to push rate cut expectations farther out. Markets are exhibiting a degree of irrational exuberance in the AI sector. Overall, valuations support our risk-off positioning. We are also seeing forward based EPS estimates fall. We made no trades last week.

Performance (A-Series) as of (04/05/24)

Ann. SI (04/28/16)	4.76%	6.68%
Sharpe Ratio		0.67

Upside/Downside<sup>5</sup>

Upside	19%
Downside	53%
Months Up	64
Months Dn	30

The overall PRO-EYEs factors suggest that we are in a very high risk position and we should have maximum defense in portfolios. The core portfolio beta is 90.4%. The degree of delta protection is -65% while the value of beta protection is 75% of the portfolio. The weighted average cap is: 5200. The weighted average collar is: 4700. The weighted average floor is: 0.

Tactical Asset Allocation

Tactical FX Exposure (USD): 27.9%

Generally in a risk-off mode we will have some or full exposure to the US Dollar and be hedged against EAFE and EM currencies (where possible). We currently have about half our non-US international exposure hedged, while we have about 25% exposure to the US Dollar.

Tactical Regional Exposure

We have had a structural overweight exposure to the North America and specifically to the US market for a long period. In recent years, extreme valuation in US markets has seen that exposure drift lower into Europe and Asia (EM). Other exposure is primarily Central and South America. Despite valuation concerns, the US is still the best dirty shirt in the laundry and holds some of the most profitable companies globally.

A beta of greater than 1.0 suggests that the fund is more volatile than the market, while a beta of less than 1.0 suggests that the fund is less volatile. 3 Yield is the most recent income received by the fund in the form of dividends, interest and other income annualized based on the payment frequency, divided by the current market value of the fund's investments. 4 Volatility is the annualized standard deviation which is a measure of risk. 5 Upside/Downside is a statistical measure of how much of the fund performance a manager captured during up-markets or down-markets. Typically, an investor would prefer a higher upside capture and lower downside capture. The time period presented is since inception. 6 Standard Deviation is a measure of risk that calculates the variation of a fund's performance around its average over a specific time period.
